Name: _____

We don't live in boxes, so where things happen is important! The place where a story happens, also called the setting, can have a big impact on the characters. Let's create a great environment for your story.

Write several sentences about where you want your story to take place.

_____

_____

_____

Why did you pick this setting for your story?

_____

_____

_____

Using complete sentences, describe the setting in detail. Use all five senses in your description. Also write about how this setting affects your story character.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Name: _____

_____

_____

_____

Draw an illustration of your story setting here: